

CoMIS Case Competition

CoMIS, the first annual Competition on Management Information Systems, was held at the University of Minnesota's Carlson School of Management, April 4-7. The four day competition included a 24-hour case competition with teams from around the United States participating. Several educational and networking events with corporate sponsors were also part of the program.

The Management Information Systems Research Center and the Information and Decision Sciences Department hosted the event.

Participating teams were

University of Arizona
Arizona State University
University of Connecticut
Indiana University
University of Maryland

University of Minnesota
Minnesota State University, Moorhead
University of Texas at Austin
University of Texas at Dallas
University of Utah

The team from the University of Connecticut placed first; University of Utah placed second, and University of Maryland placed third.

MIS Quarterly is proud to have been a sponsor of the event, along with 3M, Medtronic, and Ernst & Young.
